

Sam Simos, DDS

Dr. Sam Simos is nationally recognized as a leader in cosmetic and restorative dentistry. He received his Doctorate of Dental Surgery at Chicago's Loyola University. Dr. Simos teaches post-graduate courses to practicing dentists on cosmetic dentistry, occlusion, and comprehensive restorative dentistry through Allstar Smiles' state-of-the-art Learning Center and client facility in Bolingbrook, Illinois and throughout the country.

He is committed to promote awareness, communication, and education within the dental profession through lecturing around the country and authoring both nationally and internationally published professional articles on the use of innovative techniques and materials.